

ReadyTalk Quick Launcher

Are you looking for a faster way to start and join your ReadyTalk audio and web meetings? Do you need an easier way to invite others to your ad hoc meetings? Streamline the process to start, join, and invite participants to ReadyTalk meetings with ReadyTalk Quick Launcher – a desktop tool available when you need it.

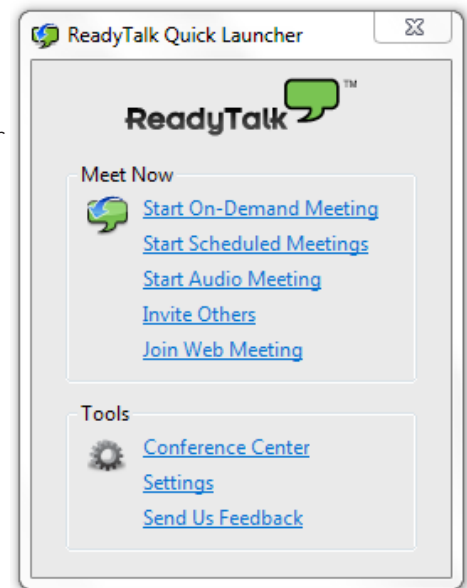

Start, Invite, and Join with Ease

In today's virtual world, online meetings play a critical role in connecting with colleagues, customers and partners. However, the technology itself can get in the way of efficient interactions by taking you out of your workflow to launch an audio or web meeting.

With the ReadyTalk Quick Launcher, you can kick-off a meeting in seconds right from your desktop:

- Start an on-demand meeting with one click using stored account credentials.
- Instantly view a list of upcoming scheduled meetings and choose the meeting you'd like to start.
- Quickly invite others with an email that includes everything participants need to join your meeting.

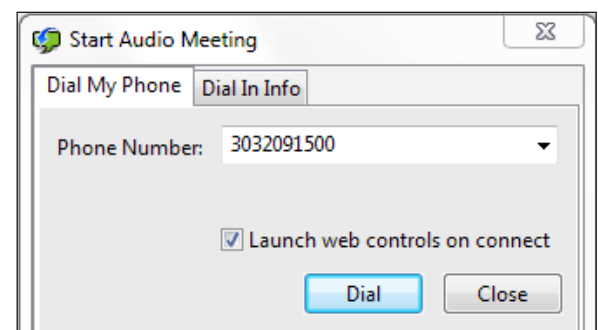

Plus, Quick Launcher makes it faster than ever to join another user's web meeting by simply entering their 7-digit access code to bypass the registration process.

Audio Meeting Flexibility

ReadyTalk Quick Launcher also makes it easier to start audio meetings by dialing your phone number and connecting you to the audio call. It remembers the last 10 numbers you dialed so you can quickly connect to your cell phone, desk phone or conference phone.

You even have the option to automatically open the web meeting controls so you can see and manage audio participants via the web. Learn more about using the web to manage your audio call.
